Disney Entertainment Television takes over Downtown San Diego this July with block parties, space wreckage, mythic adventures and more — delivering an all-star programming lineup and unforgettable experiences from across its portfolio of content brands including 20th Television, 20th Television Animation, ABC, Disney+, Disney Branded Television, FX and Hulu.

Beginning Thursday, July 24, Hulu's King of the Hill backyard cookout, ABC's A Very Abbott Block Party, FX's Alien: Earth — "The Wreckage," and The Percy Jackson Experience outdoor activations will be open to the public directly outside the San Diego Convention Center; plus, 13 star-studded panels; and inside the convention halls, autograph signing sessions and exclusive giveaways from fan favorite series at the Disney Entertainment Television booth throughout the weekend. At the booth, fans can also step back in time with the Disney+ Rewind Room – a throwback photo experience celebrating iconic films and series from the '90s and 2000s.

“Abbott Elementary” is ready to FUN-raise at San Diego Comic-Con, inviting attendees to experience A Very Abbott Block Party where the blacktop’s been cleared; the faculty is off-duty (kind of); and the neighborhood has come out to play — no permission slips required. From authentic Philly water ice and waterfront views from a sky-high Ferris wheel to exclusive premiums from the school’s Lost and Found, it is sure to be the hottest party on the block. #AbbottBlockParty

This year, Hulu’s “King of the Hill” experience is bringing Arlen’s favorite family straight to fans. Step into the Hill family’s backyard for a big ole cookout, complete with BBQ bites served up throughout the day, classic lawn games, themed photo ops and a cold can of Alamo (water) to beat the heat. As the go-to streaming destination for adult animation, Hulu is excited to cook up custom merch and exclusive prizes, bringing “King of the Hill” to life in this celebration located right next to the Convention Center in the Bayfront’s Parking Lot A.

FX will be transporting fans into the immersive world of FX’s “Alien: Earth.” Housed on the Hilton Bayfront Lawn, the experience will bring the mysterious wreckage of the USSC Maginot to San Diego Comic-Con complete with interactive thrills and never-before-seen alien specimens. Guests can visit “The Wreckage” during the day to explore new areas of the USSC Maginot, or brave a terrifying mission at “The Wreckage: Code Red” once the sun goes down.

Joining in on the festivities for the first time, “Percy Jackson and the Olympians” is inviting guests to embark on an epic journey into the Sea of Monsters at the Percy Jackson Experience. Located at Fifth Ave and L St, fans will have the chance to see through the mist, discover which of the gods they’ve been claimed by, and use exclusive drachma for God Inspired swag from mythological beings. Let the quest begin!

The band is back together! Join Phineas and Ferb at San Diego Comic-Con at their pop-up photo experience. Visit for a chance to snag a photo in the life-sized “Phineas and Ferb” Whack-a-Pest game adjacent to the Omni hotel, and don’t forget to join the cast and crew for a very special panel reunification!

Complete panel schedules and descriptions are below:
