

BIOGRAPHY

SARAH CHALKE

Executive Producer and Elliot Reid on ABC's "Scrubs"

Over the past two decades, Sarah Chalke has forged a singular path as an actor, voice artist and producer with an incredible range. She will soon be reprising her iconic role of Dr. Elliot Reid in the reboot of the Peabody Award and Emmy® Award-winning medical comedy "Scrubs" for ABC.

On the film side, she most recently starred in "Playdate," alongside Kevin James and Alan Ritchson, for Amazon Prime Video and will next be seen in "The Marshmallow Experiment," directed by Richard Goldgewicht.

Later this year, Chalke will once again voice the character Beth Smith on Adult Swim's Emmy Award-winning adult animated science-fiction series "Rick and Morty" when Season 9 returns.

Chalke most recently returned to Netflix's original romantic drama series "Firefly Lane," an adaptation of the New York Times Bestselling book, when Season 2 premiered on Dec. 2, 2022. "Firefly Lane" debuted in the Top 10 in over 52 countries with over 29 million hours viewed. "Firefly Lane" is the sweeping story of two inseparable best friends Kate (Chalke) and Tully (Katherine Heigl) and their enduring, complicated bond, spanning four tumultuous decades. When it premiered on the platform in 2020, it ranked as No. 1 on Nielsen streaming rankings.

Chalke is well known for her role as Becky Conner on three seasons of "Roseanne." Additional TV credits include "Animal Control," "How I Met Your Mother," "Friends From College," "Speechless," "Grey's Anatomy," "Cougar Town," "Angie Tribeca" and "The Conners." Film credits include Scott Abramovitch's "Eat Wheaties!" alongside Elizabeth Banks and Tony Hale, "The Wrong Missy" with David Spade, and Garry Marshall's "Mother's Day" with Jennifer Aniston, Julia Roberts and Kate Hudson.

Chalke is based in her hometown of Vancouver.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

HOMETOWN: Vancouver, Canada

BIRTHDATE: August 27