

BIOGRAPHY
Waylon Jacobs
Odward

Actor Waylon Jacobs voices Odward in “Dragon Striker.”

Jacobs trained at the Arts Educational Schools in London, where he was the recipient of both the BBC Performing Arts Bursary and the Gillian Lynne Award.

His London and West End credits include “Grease” (Secret Cinema), “Earworm” (Kings Head Theatre), “Hadestown” (Lyric Theatre), “Treason” (Drury Lane), “Hamilton” (Victoria Palace Theatre), “Memphis” (Shaftesbury Theatre), “We Will Rock You” (Dominion Theatre), “Ragtime” (Regents Park Open Air Theatre), “A Midsummer Night’s Dream” (Regents Park Open Air Theatre), “Children of Eden” (Prince of Wales Theatre) and “The Lion King” (Lyceum Theatre).

His additional credits include “Freaky Friday” (Home, Manchester), “The Last Five Years” (The Minac Theatre, Cornwall), “Chicago” (UK Tour), “We Will Rock You” (World Arena Tour), “Rent” (Tabard Theatre), “The Screams of Kitty Genovese” (Tete a Tete Opera Festival and Edinburgh Festival), “Sondheim at 80” (BBC Prom, Royal Albert Hall), “Riverdance” (Gaiety Theatre, Dublin) and “Dick Whittington” (Chelmsford Civic Theatre).

Jacobs currently resides in London.